Did you know:

"Did you know that in 1399, in addition to the communal lands she donated to the farmers of the Westrik, Johanna of Brabant also donated communal lands (44 bunders) to the farmers of Biest? These communal lands, also known as "De Gemeijnte," are managed by the Regents. The proceeds from these lands can be used for the benefit of the village. With a solid plan, you can submit an application to the Regents. If approved, you'll receive some financial support, which will allow us as a village tolaunch more wonderful projects."
